I truly enjoy teaching the middle school students at Catholic East Elementary. I joined our faculty in 1997 and I have more than 30 years of teaching experience. I have a degree in Elementary Education K-8 with a minors in English and French from Alverno College. I also have done post-graduate studies at Marquette University, Cardinal Stritch University and currently at Concordia University.

I am married to my husband, Michael, and am the proud mother of two daughters, Margaret and Catherine (who is also a student at Concordia). I enjoy reading, gardening and crafts – especially sewing. I love to cook and collect cookbooks. When given a chance to travel, I'll take it.

Teaching literature and writing in the middle school is exciting and challenging. I am teaching my favorite subject, and watching students grow in their writing skills and love of books gives me such pleasure. I enjoy sharing my own passion for reading. What fun it is to share a good book! In addition to teaching in my subject area, I am the home-room teacher for the 6th grade and enjoy getting to know our newest middle school students.
