I enjoy the diversity that each class has to offer throughout the school year at Catholic East Elementary and use it to create a classroom environment that utilizes critical thinking, problem solving, and conceptualizing theory into reality.

I joined the staff here in 2007 and also have five additional years of experience as a teacher. I have a Bachelor of Arts from Michigan State University with a major in Communications and minor in History, and I am set to complete my Master of Arts in Education this spring. My life experience also includes serving eight years in the United States Air Force in Turkey, Saudi Arabia and Iraq.

I have a daughter, Megan, and two sons, Trevor and Kyle. I love reading, writing, creating sculptures and bike riding. I also enjoy running triathlons, playing chess and gardening.

In addition to teaching middle school math and science, I am the 7th grade homeroom teacher.
