Shines!

I am very excited to be the principal of Catholic East, the “Mother School” of the Archdiocese of Milwaukee.

I have 33 years of experience in Catholic education – including work as Archdiocesan consultant for 6 years – and I have taught every grade level. I received my Master’s degree in Educational Leadership from Cardinal Stritch University and my Bachelor’s degree in history and music education from Dominican College.

My husband, Dr. Jeff Kraig, is a Fond du Lac dentist. We have two married daughters - Courtney Pileggi, a teacher in Chicago, and Lindsey Kraig, a Milwaukee attorney - as well as two grandchildren.

While I love to read, my personal and professional passion is to prepare Catholic school students to become community leaders and, most importantly, become the leaders of the Catholic Church of tomorrow.

We are well on our way at Catholic East to achieving this by committing ourselves to major building and technology improvements already underway; revitalizing our Catholic identity and worship; building up professional staff development; and maintaining high expectations for students, staff and parents.
